- will you be able to complete our rigorous postgraduate academic program successfully?
- are you up for the challenge of undertaking an MBA? – Especially being able to manage demanding part-time study while working.
 - managing people, tasks, projects, outcomes etc - can you draw upon your recent work experiences sufficiently to get the most out of our program content?
- are you studying for your MBA at the most effective point in your career, at a time to reap the most benefit for you?

Please leave sufficient time to undertake your application, especially in regard to the coordination of your referee reports and submission of all required documentation.
