5 ... And Nobody Came!

Mr Pawley () is a politician – but not a very successful one. Recently he invited twelve civic leaders to a fund-raising party, only to find the following note from his assistant on his desk. But he went ahead, and, alas, as expected, none of the invitees didn't turn up in the party.

Now, study the the note, and write a passage in Korean, describing the situation. Your passage can begin with “No one came to the party. Mr Peeble could not come because his wife was sick. ...” Note that the party here can be (gathering), which is a noun derived from the verb - (gather).

MEMO TO: Mr Pawley
 FROM: Mainda
 DATE: 20/6/10
 RE: Dinner at the Rubber Chicken

There have been some cancellations today.

- Mr Peebles: his wife is sick.
- Mrs Love: her husband caught cold.
- Mr Proudman: it's his son's birthday.
- Mr Healy: hasn't recovered from his illness.
- Mrs Koff: is coughing a lot.
- Mr Stabborn: has changed his mind.
- Mr Wheeler: his wife has an upset stomach.
- Mr Reaper: grandmother died yesterday.
- Mr Karr: car broke down.
- Mr Slau: an urgent matter's comes up.
- Mr Bright: has a graduation ceremony.
- Mr Shotkin: has to go to his sister's wedding.
